We as Radburn students think it is very important to restore the Naugle house because we learned about it and it's a historic landmark that we are all proud of.

There is a lot of history in that house.

For instance, General Lafayette slept there in 1824.

And I think it is wrong to tear it down.

It was part of the Revolutionary War and supposedly a part of the Underground Railroad.

I think it is very important to save this house.

We would like to with our classmates clean up the Naugle house and make it into a museum for people to visit.

We are in the 4th grade at Radburn School and would like to make this into a community project for all the students in Fair Lawn.

We have a lot of good ideas on how to fix it up.

We would like to restore it to its natural state as it was in the revolutionary war.

We understand that it is very important.

I know it doesn't belong to us but it is still part of our town and if we believe and if you believe in us we might be able to save this house.

We as Radburn students are proud that we have a house here in Fair Lawn that is part of the National Registry of historic homes.

We need to preserve our history and not destroy it by knocking it down!!!

Please help me and all of the students in Fair Lawn save this house and keep our history where others can see it as well. Wouldn't it be nice for other towns to come to Fair Lawn and see our historic beauty.

And once we clean it up maybe the 4th grade can visit it on the class trip that goes around town visiting all historic places.

We have many students and parents willing to roll up their sleeves and help us clean up and restore this house.

Not everyone was able to come to this meeting but this list shows the support that we will receive once we begin restoring this house.

Please support the children of Fair Lawn and let us make a difference in our town

We are ready!!!!

We have put together a demonstration of what the Naugle House looks like today. As you can see from the pictures that my friends are holding, the house that once stood proud is being destroyed every day.

I think we should put a fence so that no one can come and destroy it any more. We need to protect what is left of this house before there is nothing left.

I was told that there was supposed to be a fence around this house to protect it.

Let me ask you all where is that fence?

As you can see from my friends if you simply put a fence up we might have had a beautiful house that would not be in this situation.

Please let me say again "we have to protect our future and not destroy it by knocking it down and letting it get destroyed."

Thank you for giving us a chance.
